MEMORANDUM FOR: Deputy to the DCI for Resource Management

FROM: Director of Central Intelligence

SUBJECT:

While you still have cognizance over  I'd appreciate your looking into the following:

When I briefed the President on  one time, we produced some bar graphs which showed relative priorities of effort   on various topics. I'd like to consider presenting some of these to the PRC(I) the next time we take up the question of priorities. In short, I'd like to show them some examples of the present priorities which their Directives would modify and how they may be able to scrutinize what we are doing. In short, if I showed them this device for what we are now going to use as collection priorities, they can at least understand what they could ask of us. Ask your people to look at what would be a half-dozen representative examples that might be useful for this purpose please.
